

Because it takes them time to get to their feet, giraffes rarely lie down where there is a risk of predation. All photos: John Doherty/Reticulated Giraffe Project.

The Reticulated Giraffe Project is a partnership between Queen's University Belfast and the Kenya Wildlife Service. It is supported by Anne Innis Dagg, the BOMA Project, Columbus Zoo and Aquarium, Dallas Zoo, Fresno Chaffee Zoo, Isiolo County Government, Oakland Zoo, the People's Trust for Endangered Species, Samburu County Government and Wilderness Lodges.

2015 1-6

			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	31

					1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28

					1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31

		1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30

				1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30

Mradi wa twiga aina somali reticulatedgiraffeproject.net

Reticulated Giraffe Project